CONCERT SERIES

November 26, 2011

Around the World with Silver Roots

Shawn Wyckoff (flute) and Maria Millar (violin) perform a rich blend of classical and world music with luxurious tone, technical mastery, and superb musicianship. The flute and violin are two of the most beloved instruments and their likeness can be found in virtually every culture's music. Julliard-trained musicians, Wyckoff and Millar, perform a program almost entirely of original compositions and arrangements created specifically for this dynamic ensemble. Come join Silver Roots on a journey across borders, worlds and time!

Music from Germany, Ireland, Japan, the Czech Republic, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Argentina, Uruguay and the USA.

Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, Inc. (New York, NY) March 2010

"Your ability to showcase virtuosic performance coupled with a palpable connection to your audience results in an absolutely riveting experience."

-Hilary McAndrew, Senior Manager, Meet the Artist & Community Programming

Psallite! Joyous Early Music for the Season

Chamber choirs Carmina and Illuminare bring us jubilant songs of the season from the Middle Ages through the Baroque. Carmina, known for its gorgeous tonal balance, is devoted to exploring the diverse musical styles of early music. Illuminare, Carmina's women's ensemble, was founded to illuminate exceptional music of past centuries and focuses on repertoire composed or arranged for women's voices. Come celebrate the season with exquisite music from Carmina and Illuminare in the beautiful Kentlands Mansion!

Washington Early Music Festival (Washington, D.C.) June 2010

"Unison singing is the gold standard of choral art. But unison singing is what the two chamber choruses Carmina, a mixed chorus, and Illuminare, its smaller, all-female sister ensemble, do so well, and the program they brought to St. Peter's Catholic Church on Friday as part of the Washington Early Music Festival played handsomely to their strengths."
